VAIN HUNT FOR LOST CHILD.

Lizette Casady Still Missing and the Police at Fault.
New York, July 14.—The Brooklyn police yesterday learned the identity of the man seen in Jamaica, L. I., with a bareheaded infant, supposed to be missing Lizette Casady. He is a well-known business man of that place, and the bareheaded baby was his own.
The parents of the missing child yesterday received an anonymous letter, saying that a child answering Lizette's description was put off a car at Humboldt and Grand Streets last Thursday, and that a man started with her toward the Bushwick police station, saying he would leave her there. The incident, according to the letter, occurred the day before Lizette disappeared, but the detectives thought the writer might have made a mistake in the day.
Recruiting Progressing Rapidly.
From reports received at the War Department from recruiting stations it is estimated that the required number of men to fill the ten regiments of volunteers authorized for service in the Philippines will be secured in about thirty days. Recruiting began Monday, and in the first two days 791 men were received.

Weeds on Government Property.

Israel W. Stone, of No. 17 Twelfth Street northwest, recently complained to the District Commissioners that the owner of the lot on the southeast corner of Twelfth and East Capitol Streets southeast, had failed to cut the weeds from all vacant lots, and that he did not understand why the owner of the lot in question was not ordered to cut them off. It appears that the weeds complained of are on property owned by the United States Government. Under the circumstances, the Commissioners are aware of no law which requires the Government to remove them.

To Improve an Electric Service.

The United States Electric Lighting Company has requested permission to rebuild its pole line along the east side of Rock Creek, from M Street to the P Street Bridge, and to replace existing wires with others of greater capacity. The old line has been in existence about ten years, and served to carry current to the market at the corner of Twenty-second and P Streets. It is the intention of the company to replace the old wire with four large ones, which will give a connection between the power house of the Metropolitan Railroad Company, on M Street, and that of the Potomac Electric Power Company, in Georgetown. The Commissioners will grant the permits for the change.

Norfolk May Keep Bar.

Charles Barr, who was arrested in Norfolk yesterday at the request of the police of this city, charged with forgery, will probably remain in Norfolk. Since his arrest the Virginia authorities say they have found out that the man has forged several checks during his sojourn in Norfolk. There is only one case against him in this city, and Virginia is said to have three. It is not probable, therefore, that he will be brought to this city to answer the charge against him here.
